County Convention Tuesday.

On Tuesday, May 10th, at 2 p. m., the Democrats of Bourbon will meet in mass convention for the purpose of selecting delegates to the convention to be held at Lexington, Ky., on Thursday, May 12, to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress from the Seventh Congressional District. Let every Democrat in the county be present to give our candidate, the Hon. C. M. Thomas, a good send off. Of course, there will be no opposition to instructions, at the same time your presence at the convention will doubly insure Mr. Thomas that old Bourbon is for him first, last and all the time. He is conceded by some of the shrewdest politicians in the district to have the best chance for the nomination of all the candidates. It would indeed be an honor to old Bourbon to have this worthy son to represent her in the halls of Congress.

THRO' KENTUCKY.
Thro' the grand state of Kentucky, Where the "Old Home" got its name, Where the fields are overflowing With the yellow ripening grain.
Here tobacco plants are growing, In the fields not sown with corn, Tobacco plants—big as cactus— Just as sure as you are born.
Yes, they're large as good-sized cactus, Larger in our home-like view, But it's of a fine grade as Is that old "Kentucky Dew."
Here all people reap a harvest, Money in bank from year to year, All the green calamity howlers, Lose their jobs when they land here.
Here the "dry" ways are the highways, Built high and dry from rains and flood, Here the "good roads delegation," Swear the roads are suit'nly good.
But of pikes and highways finest, There's a "road" that suits my taste; 'Tis the line of Solid Comfort, And the trains let no time waste.
From Kentucky to St. Louis, Operates this road of class, Across the famous old "Green River" On its roadbed smooth as glass.
Would you know the road I speak of? Listen then to my advice, For you'll need it in your business, On your trip to Paradise.
In your travels to St. Louis— Hustle; beat them under the wire, "Get the 'Henderson Route' habit"— 'Tis a good one to acquire.
—[Jack "Henderson" Gallagher]

TWO BIG STRIKES.
Many Boiler Makers in Ship Yards Go Out.
A Strike to Extend to an International Movement Against the American Bridge Co. Has Been Ordered by Pittsburg Unions.
New York, May 5.—All the large ship yards in the Metropolitan district, except that of the Boston Dry Dock Co., in Brooklyn, and the yard of Tilden & Lang, in Hoboken, are tied up as the result of a strike of the Brotherhood of Boiler Makers and Iron Shipbuilders of the United States and Canada. Five thousand boiler makers are involved and workmen of other trades may be affected. John McNeil, of Kansas City, international president of the boiler makers, authorized the strike. The organization is said to have $250,000 in its relief fund and the 12 local lodges are also well supplied with money. Beginning Wednesday married men will be paid $7 a week and single men $5 a week, out of the strike fund. Preparations have been made for a long struggle.
The yards and shops affected are those whose officers are members of the New York Metal Trades' association, which body Tuesday refused to grant the boiler makers' demand for the closed shop and the admission of walking delegates to all shops and jobs.
In the yards of the Morris Heights Shipbuilding Co., at Morris Heights, 300 men who had been employed in building two torpedo boats for the government, quit work.
Pittsburg, Pa., May 5.—A strike which is expected to extend to an international movement against the American Bridge Co. was ordered Wednesday by the local union of Structural Iron Workers and Bridgemen and over 600 men in this district will go out.
The strike is called because the union claims $5 non-union men were put to work last Tuesday erecting a bridge for the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg road at Coral, Pa. This action, it is claimed, is a violation of the agreement to employ none but union men. President Frank Buchanan notified the local union officials here Wednesday that the bridge company refused to rectify the matter and said the executive board would meet immediately and issue a strike order against the American Bridge Co. The order will affect all work being done by the company throughout the United States and Canada.
Chicago, May 5.—Fifty thousand workmen employed in the building trades in Chicago will be thrown out of work within 48 hours, according to the statement of the officials of the Association of Manufacturers and Dealers in Building Materials unless a speedy settlement is reached between the stone, lime and cement workers and street workers and their employers. Nearly 1,000 teamsters hauling building and street work material were locked out Wednesday because the union had called a strike in two cases, and work on a number of buildings was stopped because the supply of building material had been exhausted.

CATTLE QUARANTINE.
The Friction Between Mexico and Texas as May Be Investigated.
Washington, May 5.—The only information the department of state has touching the reported friction between Mexico and the state of Texas over the question of cattle quarantine is contained in a short telegram from United States Consul General Hanna, at Monterey, saying that Texas has threatened a quarantine against Mexican cattle, that the Mexican cattle are free from disease and that the proposed action might lead to retaliation. The matter may involve an interesting question as to the supremacy of state and national quarantine laws. The department of agriculture, through the bureau of animal industry, probably will take part in the investigation likely to be made.
ALLEGED FALSE ENTRIES.
Angle, Sprinkle and Young Convicted of Defrauding the Government.
Charlotte, N. C., May 5.—A verdict of guilty was rendered Wednesday in the United States court in the cases against T. M. Angle, B. F. Sprinkle and William Young for defrauding the government by false entries in connection with the payment of taxes on whisky. Sprinkle was fined $5,000 and sentenced to two years' imprisonment; Angle $1,000 and one year, and Young $1,000 and six months. An appeal was taken. A. J. Davis, the government gauger, who some time ago was convicted of making false returns in connection with these alleged frauds, was given 18 months' imprisonment and fined $1,000. Judgment for $20,000 also was assessed against him and suit will be brought for the amount against his bondsmen.
National Liberty Party.
St. Louis, May 5.—The executive committee of the national liberty party Wednesday completed arrangements for holding a national convention here on July 6. The party is composed of Negroes throughout the country.
Can Enter the Field Meet.
Stanford University, Cal., May 5.—The 'Varsity track team has received a telegram from Chicago stating that it will be allowed to enter the field meet which will be held at Marshall Field, Chicago, on June 4 next.

EXPLOSION IN A POWDER MILL.
Four Men Were Killed Instantly and Two Were Seriously Hurt.
Newport, Ind., May 5.—A powder mill owned by the Northwestern Powder Co., three miles from Newport, was blown up Wednesday. Four men were killed outright and two were injured.
The dead are: Desota Briggs, Albert Mayhew, George Mayhew and Henry Griffin.
The injured: Quincy Foster and M. I. Taylor.
Ten thousand pounds of powder exploded and the bodies of Briggs and Griffin were blown into such small pieces that they could not be picked up. The other bodies were not badly mangled. The injured men will recover.
The mill was two frame buildings, situated in a hollow about one-half mile long. One building was known as the Glaze mill, where the explosion occurred, and the fire spread to the Corning mill. The loss was $7,000.

TO DISPELL ILLNESS.
The Igorrotes Resorted to a Dog Killing Ceremony.
St. Louis, May 5.—The Igorrote tribe from the Philippine islands at the World's fair Wednesday resorted to a dog killing ceremony for the purpose of dispelling illness from a woman member of the tribe. Danganan, a Suyoc Igorrote woman, has been ill for several days and the other members became anxious lest she die. Wednesday Byungsan, chief of the Suyocs, was petitioned to do something to help her recovery. Chief Byungsan killed a dog as an offering and held a ceremony of weird incantation over the carcass which was then singed. The dog was later roasted and carried to the tribe of Bantocas, whose members devoured it while the Suyocs dined on chicken, all the time chanting some peculiar ceremonial strains. After the feast which concluded the ceremony the woman Danganan, arose from her couch and declared she felt much better.

ILLINOIS MONUMENTS.
Program For the Exercises Attending the Dedication at Shiloh.
Springfield, Ill., May 5.—The program was issued Wednesday for the exercises attending the dedication of the Illinois monuments on the Shiloh battlefield, May 17. Capt. Gustav A. Busse will present the monuments to the governor, who will accept them on behalf of the state and transfer them to the government. The speech of acceptance on the part of the government will be made by Col. Cornelius Cadle, chairman of the national committee. Addresses will also be made by United States Senator A. J. Hopkins, of Illinois, and Judge Lawrence Y. Sherman, of Macomb, Ill.

THE AMERICAN DENTIST.
German Supreme Court Forbids the Use of the Title "Doctor."
Berlin, May 5.—A decision of the imperial supreme court forbids the use of the title "doctor" when granted in the United States or the designation "American dentist" as being in contravention of the law concerning unsuitable competition in business as American dental schools are not state institutions. It is probable that the decision will not seriously affect American dentists with American names.
Three hundred dentists with diplomas received in the United States are now practicing in Germany.

LOUBET'S VISIT TO ROME.
The Vatican Considers It a Grave Offense Against Its Dignity.
Rome, May 5.—The Observatore Romano, the vatican organ, publishes an official note saying that the holy see considers President Loubet's visit to Rome as the gravest offense against its dignity and rights, and, therefore, has sent to the French government a formal and energetic protest, which has been communicated to the other governments in diplomatic relations with the vatican.
THE CANAL IS OURS.
Formally Received By Maj. Gen. Brooke For the United States.
Panama, May 5.—The formal act of turning over the Panama canal to the United States government was performed with much ceremony at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. The canal was received by Maj. Gen. Brooke and staff, on behalf of the United States. Consul General Guder and other prominent Americans witnessed the ceremony, which concluded with the raising of the American flag.

"I Think I Know."
Salesville, Ohio, May 2nd.—There is a Civil War veteran in this place who is very positive in his way and when he makes a statement everyone knows he means it and that it is true. His name is Mr. J. Stephens, and he has written for publication the following letter:
"I have been a sufferer with Kidney Disease since the Civil War. Sometimes my back would hurt me so that I could not dress myself for weeks. I took a few boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and have found great relief. They have done me a great deal of good.
"The general health is much better since using Dodd's Kidney Pills. I can recommend this remedy to be the best thing for the Kidneys that is on the market. I have taken a heap of medicine for my back and kidneys and I THINK I KNOW WHAT HELPS ME.
"I am 63 years old and was through the Civil War as a soldier."
Mr. Stephens KNOWS that Dodd's Kidney Pills helped him. They will cure any case of Backache.

The letters of Miss Merkle, whose picture is printed above, and Miss Claussen, prove beyond question that thousands of cases of inflammation of the ovaries and womb are annually cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gradual loss of strength and nerve force told me something was radically wrong with me. I had severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said that I had ovarian trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation. I strongly objected to this and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found that my judgment was correct, and that all the good things said about this medicine were true, and day by day I felt less pain and increased appetite. The ulceration soon healed, and the other complications disappeared and in eleven weeks I was once more strong and vigorous and perfectly well.

Miss Claussen Saved from a Surgical Operation.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It seems to me that all the endorsements that I have read of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound do not express one-half of the virtue the great medicine really possesses. I know that it saved my life and I want to give the credit where it belongs. I suffered with ovarian trouble for five years, had three operations and spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicines but this did not cure me after all.
"However, what doctors and medicines failed to do, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did. Twenty bottles restored me to perfect health and I feel sure that had I known of its value before, and let the doctors alone, I would have been spared all the pain and expense that fruitless operations cost me. If the women who are suffering, and the doctors do not help them, will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they will not be disappointed with the results."—MISS CLARA M. FIGHT ON LAND AND SEA

Japanese Cross the Yalu River and Defeat the Russians.

Port Arthur Again Attacked by the Japanese Fleet—Entrance to the Harbor Absolutely Blocked by Sinking Merchant Vessels.

St. Petersburg, May 3.—The interest of the public in the news of the fighting on the Yalu is at fever heat, and especially since the last official report which announced the fighting at Chin Cow was given the general disappointment, no further telegrams from Gen. Kuropatkin have been published by the war commission nor will the censor pass press dispatches wired from the front.

A press representative has obtained from the general staff an outline of the operations on the Yalu river during the past week. The Russian forces, including the reserves, was composed of Gen. Kashtalinsky's rifle division, Gen. Mistchenko's Cossack outposts and a brigade of artillery, the whole under Gen. Sassulitch.

The Japanese forces, the staff believes, approximates a hundred thousand men, of which four divisions, 13 battalions and 56 guns were in action. The Japanese prepared for crossing the river by posting all their available guns, of which the Russians say the Japanese had five times more than they had, along the line facing Kulien Cheng and Antung, and also landed from their warships 47 guns. This array of artillery eventually made Kul-ien Cheng untenable. Under cover of powerful batteries north of Sindiagow, the Japanese crossed to Housan, occupying the height. The latter would have enabled them to direct a raking fire against the Russians at Kulien Cheng, Gen. Sassulitch ordered it to be retaken Friday. This was done, but on Saturday the Japanese, under cover of a battery, recaptured it, the defenders falling back across the Lit-zavna and continuing the fight with the Japanese, who were attempting to flank them from Chin Cow. The Russian force at Antung and Kulien Cheng had meanwhile retreated to its second line, a few miles westward. The whole Russian force engaged Sunday formed a semi-circle, the horn of which was being gradually drawn in preparatory to retreating to a position further west. This was the situation when the last Russian official representative was sent.

St. Petersburg, May 4.—In a report received by the emperor from Gen. Kuropatkin, under Tuesday's date, it is stated that at least from 3,000 to 4,000 men were killed in the Yalu river fight.

Port Arthur, May 4.—(Censored).—Another naval battle is in progress at this writing with the result in doubt. The combined Japanese fleet, under command of Adm. Togo, appeared off Port Arthur at dawn Tuesday morning and at once engaged the Russian forts and warships in the inner harbor. Thirty Japanese have been taken prisoners.

At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning five Japanese torpedo boats were sighted and the Russian land batteries and the gunboat Giliak and the coast defense vessels Gremishih and Otashni opened fire and compelled them to retire. Immediately afterwards other Japanese ships were sighted on the horizon. They were headed by a fireship, which was sunk near the entrance of the harbor at 1:20 a. m.

After an interval of 25 minutes two more fireships came on and were sent to the bottom.

At 2:25 four more fireships approached. Three of these blew up on our mine. Two of these sank immediately and the other two fireships were sunk by the batteries and warships.

The protected cruiser Askold participated in the firing. Fifteen minutes later three more fireships arrived. One of them blew up on a mine, the second vessel was wrecked on the shore and the third was sunk by the Russian shells.

Japan Buying Steamers.

Berlin, May 5.—The Vossische Zeitung says it is informed that the North German Lloyd Steamship Co. has sold to the Japanese government eight steamers belonging to its East Asiatic lines for war purposes.

Pine Mountain Tunnel Burned.

Columbus, Ga., May 5.—The Pine mountain tunnel on the Southern road between here and Atlanta was burned Wednesday. All the woodwork was consumed. Traffic over that part of the road will not be resumed before next week.

The crews of the Japanese fireships which were sunk Tuesday morning while attempting to block the channel tried to save themselves by boats in which they put out to sea. A majority of them were killed by the Russian machine guns and rifles. Some of the survivors were picked up. At daybreak a number of Japanese were seen clinging to the masts and funnels of the sunken vessels, and these were rescued by the Russians.

London, May 5.—The opinion gains ground here that the Japanese have at last effectually blocked Port Arthur. No official Japanese report on the subject has yet been received, but the Tokyo correspondents are very positive regarding the matter and describe the termination with which the enterprise was undertaken.

The Telegraph's correspondent declares that the entrance to Port Arthur is "absolutely sealed," and adds that the Japanese fleet in effecting its purpose steamed into the entrance at full speed and that the naval officers who made the two previous attempts begged permission to carry out the next attack by daylight, that being easier, and their request was granted.

"So determined were they to succeed," adds the correspondent, "that they decided if necessary to lose half their men. The number of casualties sustained by the Japanese has not yet been announced."

In favor of the supposition of Japanese success in blocking Port Arthur, it is pointed out that the previous attempts had left the channel so narrow that a couple of vessels sunk in the fairway would probably suffice to seal up the entrance, while there is a noticeable evasion and half heartedness in the Russian denials of the enemy's success.

ONE DOLLAR WHEAT.

Western Canada's Wheat Fields Produce It—Magnificent Yields—Free Grants of Land to Settlers.

The returns of the Interior Department show that the movement of American farmers northward to Canada is each month affecting larger areas of the United States. Time was, says the Winnipeg Free Press, when the Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa furnished the Dominion with the main bulk of its American contingent. Last year, however, forty-four states and districts were represented in the official statement as to the former residence of Americans who had homesteads in Canada. The Dakotas still head the list, with 4,006 entries, Minnesota being a close second with 3,887, but with the exception of Alabama and Mississippi and Delaware every state in the Union supplied settlers who, in order to secure farms in the fertile prairie country of Canada, became citizens of, and took the oath of allegiance to, the Dominion. Last year no less than 11,841 Americans entered for homestead lands in Canada.

From the Gulf to the Boundary, and from ocean to ocean, the trek to the Dominion goes on. Not only the wheatgrowers of the central Mississippi valley, but the ranchers of Texas and New Mexico, and the cultivators of the comparatively virgin soil of Oklahoma, are pouring towards the productive vacant lands of the Canadian North-West. It is no tentative, half-hearted departure for an alien country that is manifested in this exodus; it has become almost a rush to secure possession of land which it is feared, by those imperfectly acquainted with the vast area of Canada's vacant lands, may all be acquired before they arrive. There is no element of speculation or experiment in the migration. The settlers have full information respecting the soil, wealth, the farming methods, the laws, taxation and system of government of the country to which they are moving, and they realize that the opportunities offered in Canada are in every respect better and greater than those they have enjoyed in the land they are leaving.

Canada can well afford to welcome cordially every American farmer coming to the Dominion. There is no question but that these immigrants make the most desirable settlers obtainable for the development of the prairie portion of the Dominion. Full information can be had from any authorized Canadian Government Agent whose address will be found elsewhere.

An Animal Mirage.

In a speech before the curtain in a western town a few nights ago Ezra Kendall announced that he was writing a book of information for "Rounders Who Go the Cocktail Route."

"Did you ever awaken in the morning," he asked his hearers, "and see an animal mirage? It is a dissolving caravan, with everything in it from four paws to no paws. The doctor says that my mirages are caused from eating animal crackers when a child—and then preserving them in alcohol as I grew up."—N. Y. Times.

No Doubt of It.

"Blank's wife thinks he's a crack shot on his hunting expeditions," said his friend, "but the truth is, he couldn't hit a duck if it would sit up and pose for him. You see, he's a schemer—he can afford to be, with that honest face of his. Out at camp he just loaf around all the time, and then on the way home he stops at the market, buys a bag of game, and presents it to his wife as the outcome of the hunt." "Hm!" mused the other; "he's what you'd call a dead game sport, isn't he?"—Detroit Free Press.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Much of women's daily woe is due to kidney trouble. Sick kidneys cause backache, languor, blind headaches, dizziness, insomnia and urinary troubles. To cure yourself you must cure the kidneys. Profit by the experience of others who have been cured.

Mrs. William W. Brown, professional nurse, of 16 Jane St., Paterson, N. J., says: "I have not only seen much suffering and many deaths from kidney trouble, but I have suffered myself. At one time I thought I could not live. My back ached, there were frequent headaches and dizzy spells, and the kidney secretions were disordered. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the first, and soon relieved me entirely of all the distressing and painful symptoms."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Brown will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price 50 cents per box.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Claude M. Thomas, of Bourbon, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the Seventh District, subject to the action of the District Convention to be held in the city of Lexington, on Thursday, May 13, 1904.

Democratic Mass Meeting.

The Democrats of Bourbon county, by order of the Democratic Committee of the 7th Congressional District, will meet in mass convention on Tuesday, May 10th, 1904, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the convention to be held at Lexington, Ky., on Thursday, May 12th, 1904, to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress from the 7th Congressional district. The meeting will be held in the old Christian church building.

GEO. W. MCKROW, Chairman.
R. K. MCCARNEY, Secretary.

Republican State Convention.

John W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue and President Roosevelt's personal representative in Kentucky, whipped into line that portion of the Republican party which is opposed to an office-holding machine and completely dominated the Republican State Convention in Louisville Tuesday. The platform adopted was a fulsome panegyric on President Roosevelt, for whom the delegates were instructed to vote at the National Convention in Chicago. Mr. Yerkes was made permanent chairman without opposition, after which ex-Gov. W. O. Bradley, R. P. Ernst, George W. Long and E. E. Underwood, colored, were elected delegates-at-large to the National Convention. Col. Morris B. Belknap, late Republican nominee for Governor of Kentucky, was mentioned only once during the convention.

The following delegates were in attendance from Bourbon: J. L. Earlywine, H. T. Ingram, Wright Larkin, Andrew Gorey, W. L. Yerkes, Jas. McClintock, J. M. Russell, A. W. Cottingham, Gray, Perry Hutchcraft, Wyatt Thompson, Dewese Grant.

The new Republican State Central Committee organized by electing R. P. Ernst, of Covington, Chairman; George W. Welsh, of Danville, Vice Chairman, and Clint McClarty, of Louisville, Treasurer. The election of a Secretary was postponed. C. M. Barnett retired as Chairman, after eight years' service.

Mr. Bryan's Chicago Speech.

Mr. Bryan seems to have had a pleasant meeting in Chicago Saturday night and he gave his views of the platform adopted by the New York Democrats last week. From the reports sent from Chicago Mr. Bryan evidently felt that he was justified in offering a few friendly criticisms—more, we take it, on account of the matters omitted from the New York declaration than because of the things included in it. So far as the latter are concerned they are entirely unobjectionable as far as they go. We do not understand that the New York convention had any intention of anticipating the action of the national convention. It was probably for that reason that no reference was made to matters concerning which there may be reasonable grounds for difference of opinion. Such questions, of course, are open to discussion at any time by any Democrat, but they must be settled in the convention at St. Louis. There seems to have been both wisdom and moderation on the part of the New York Democrats in confining their platform to brief pronouncements upon questions about which they might have supposed there would not be two ways of thinking. This is a year when the party must speak as a whole, once and finally, so far as concerns this campaign. It can only do that at St. Louis. No individual and no State can settle the national platform prior to that. Therefore everyone should keep cool and remain good natured. It will be time enough to warm up when the convention meets, and there really will be little trouble about it then. There is nothing frigid about St. Louis in July.

WANTS A DIVORCE.—Mrs. Anne Tarlton Barbour Duncan filed suit Wednesday at Louisville for divorce from Dr. Ellis Duncan, alleging abandonment. Mrs. Duncan is now living in St. Louis. On October 21, 1902 Duncan, who was then Superintendent of the Louisville City Hospital, shot Bruce Head at a railroad camp near Pittsburg. He alleged that Head had had improper relations with his wife. Dr. Duncan was acquitted after a short trial at Pittsburg. A. J. Bigot, Dr. Duncan's attorney, said that no contest would be made. Mrs. Duncan is well-known in Paris, having been a frequent visitor here.

Woodford Clay also won his first start with Outcome. If the Bourbon contingent stick to these two stables during the racing season we predict that they will not be the losers at the close.

POWERS CASE.—Briefs for the Commonwealth and defense were filed in the case of Caleb Powers in the Court of Appeals Wednesday, and the case submitted. Attorney-General Hays wrote a most exhaustive brief for the Commonwealth, consisting of fifty pages of typewritten matter. AMUSICAL TREAT.—Rehearsing is now in progress for a musical entertainment that will be a rare treat to our music-loving people in the near future. The entertainment will be for the benefit of the First Presbyterian Church, the fund to be used for the purchase of a pipe organ for that church. The rehearsing is under the directorship of Dr. Frank Fithian, and it is needless to say it will be a success.

Burglars In Town.

Thursday morning about 3 o'clock the residence of Mr. E. L. Harris, on 8th street, was visited by burglars. They effected an entrance through a window in the hall, and, although a lamp was burning brightly, entered the sleeping room of Mr. and Mrs. Harris, securing his gold watch and chain and $1.25 in money from his pants which hung on a chair close to his bed. They then moved over to a bureau where they secured a valuable pin belonging to Mrs. Harris. At this moment Mrs. Harris suddenly awakened and realizing some unwelcome stranger was in the room, with rare presence of mind, called to her husband for a glass of water. At this the intruder made his way out the front door and was lost in the darkness.

Mr. Harris in a few minutes discovered his losses and stepping to the phone called up Chief of Police Hill. The Chief responded in less than 15 minutes accompanied by his well-trained pair of blood hounds, but for some unaccountable reason the dogs failed to take up the scent. As the street fair is in progress and many strangers in the city, THE NEWS would urge upon all citizens, not to leave their premises unguarded during the early evening hours and to see that all doors and windows are securely locked and fastened when they retire at night.

WANTED.—We want your eggs and country produce. Will pay the highest market price for same. Cash or trade.

Wake Up! Wake Up!

Feeling that this is time that some action should be taken by our business men in regard to Interurban roads to North Middletown and Millersburg, we again urge the president of the Commercial Club to call a meeting of the club without further delay. If the officers of the club have not the welfare of Paris and the business interests of our community at heart, they should at least let us know their names, and if the old club does not desire to take these matters up, we will take it upon ourselves to call a meeting of our business men and organize another Commercial Club. It is the time to act for the business interest of this community, and a delay in this matter is surely going to work harm to our town. Let's be up and doing, as other towns are. This is a day of push and enterprise, and if you are not on the alert you will certainly be left at the post.

APPLES! APPLES!—I will sell to-day and to-morrow fancy Russet Apples at 30 cents per peck.

Much Needed Improvement.

Work was begun yesterday, near Hotel Windsor, by the Paris Gas Co. laying mains for the city. This is a much needed improvement, as the main now in use has been down since 1866. This work will be pushed until all of the old main is replaced by new, and we understand larger. After this is finished and the few property owners who have not tapped the sewer are made to comply with the ordinance in regard to sewer tapping, work will begin on paving Main street.

MEN'S TAN OXFORDS.—For the strictly up-to-date Tan Oxfords for men call at George McWilliams' and examine his large stock. You can get the latest from $3.50 to $4.00.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following real estate transfers have been recently recorded in the County Clerk's office:

John Pridemore to Henry Biddell, 3 acres of ground on the Frankfort and Iron Works Turnpike, for $750.

J. B. Nortcott to A. J. Hornback, a lot on Lileston avenue, for $250.

Ernie Steele to W. M. Berry, 16 acres of land, for $1,895.

J. T. Tate to John Trabue, interest in land, for $228.88.

No Patch Work Hereafter.

The Bourbon Fiscal Court was in session yesterday and a parrot and monkey time was had for several hours. It seems the court was called together by Judge Smith in regard to some patch work that was being done on the new court house. Several of the large stones had been broken by the falling derrick, and the building committee had given its consent for the contractors to patch it. After several of the Magistrates contradicting one another for about an hour about what each had said and about what somebody else had said, it was by a unanimous vote decided that NO MORE patch work would be allowed in the future on the new building.

A New Club Organized.

We hesitate to publish about the organization of a new club in Paris, as it was a mere accident that we heard of it, but we propose to give the news and can not let this go by. It is a sure enough secret organization, and for the sake of harmony in a number of our happy homes, we refrain from giving the names of the members. About twenty of our leading business men met on Wednesday night, while their better halves were attending prayer meeting, in the rear of one of our Main street stores and organized the Married Men's Anti-Euchre and Home Preservation Society. They resolved, and declared it was high time their wives and other men's wives were cured of the progressive euchre habit, and propose to use all their efforts to establish such a cure. Several letters from Georgetown and other neighboring towns were read endorsing the movement. How we would like to give the names of the officers elected, but we dare not, as we only have a limited amount of life insurance.

The gentleman who was elected President of the club in taking the chair said: "It is high time we assert our manhood and make a determined effort to down this habit which threatens to wreck our homes. Many a night I have had to walk the floor with the baby until 2 or 3 o'clock waiting until my wife returned from a euchre party. It has got so the clubs meet every afternoon and evening and are now talking about playing on Sunday."

Other men spoke in a similar vein and resolved to curb the popularity of euchre by every means in their power. We want it understood that we are in sympathy with the ladies in this matter, and positively refused to join this club. We talked to several of the members and they declared that they were determined to "down the euchre fiends who threaten to break up their homes."

Good Work Saved Building.

The Fire Department was called out about 10:30 yesterday morning to extinguish a fire which had gained considerable headway at the residence of Mrs. A. P. Allis, on Duncan avenue. The fire, in some unknown manner started under the roof, which was in a big blaze when first noticed, and the heroic work of the fire ladders saved the house from burning to the ground. They were again handicapped at this fire by not having a ladder long enough to reach to the roof of a two-story building. One of the Councilmen was looking on and remarked: "Are they the only ladders the fire department have?" And when told they were, he said: "It's a d—n shame." Still this gentleman will attend meeting after meeting of the Council and not bring the matter up.

The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith Clarke as a boarding house, which they had just fitted up in nice style and had it well filled with boarders. It is harder on them than anyone else, as everything was soaked with water and they had no insurance. Mrs. Allis carried $2,500 on the house and $500 on furniture, which will more than fully cover her loss.

THE COURT'S FINDING.Report on the Cause of the Explosion on the Missouri.*It is Blamed on Smokeless Powder—
An Unexpected Ignition of the Two Sections of the Charge
in the Gun.

Washington, May 4.—By order of Mr. Darling, acting secretary of the navy, the full findings and opinion of the court of inquiry which investigated the accident of April 13 on board the battleship Missouri were made public at the navy department Tuesday with the announcement that action by the department was postponed pending careful consideration of the findings by Mr. Adm. George A. Converse, chief of the bureau of ordinance, who will make a full report on them. Textually the finding of the court reads:

"That the cause of said accident was the unexpected ignition of the two sections of the charge of smokeless powder, then in the gun, by what is termed throughout the proceedings a 'Flare back,' a flame resulting from the ignition, in some manner not yet known, of residual gases attendant upon the combustion of the smokeless powder now in use.

"That the flame from these sections ignited the two other sections then in the ammunition car and that a shower of burning powder grains from those sections in the turret was projected down the open trunk which connects the turret with the 12-inch handling room, igniting there eight other sections of the smokeless powder, two charges of which had been taken out of the magazines and were in that place. That said accident in said vessel was on occasion named, in no respect due to fault or negligence on the part of any of the officers or members of the crew of said vessel.

"The court further finds that every officer and man in said vessel did his whole duty and in circumstances probably the most trying that can come to men afloat."

Rr. Adm. Barker, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic fleet, in his review of the findings, declares that the navy has a smokeless powder "the properties of which have not been fully understood either by those using it on board our ships or by those who make and issue it for service."

"Rapid firing," he continued, "has brought to light some of these hitherto unknown or dimly perceived properties, but an exhaustive investigation in laboratory and in experimental firing on shore is still needed."

Adm. Barker says in the bravery displayed by the officers and men of the Missouri:

"The disaster" was appalling, but it developed heroes. History records no more heroic act than that of Monsoon, who crawled through a hole into the burning magazine to put out the flames. He calls attention to those points brought out in the testimony:

"1. Exhaustive inquiry as to the nature of the gases given off by smokeless powder which remain in the gun or cartridge cases and whether or not these gases can be prevented.

"2. Whether it be possible to arrange the interior of turrets so as to separate one gun from another, but both from the handling rooms, making accidents from exploding shell or burning powder improbable if not impossible."

The total attendance was 187,792. The recorded admissions amounted to 178,423. A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Poche's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.

FOR JUDGE OF COURT OF APPEALS.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIFTH APPELLATE COURT OF KENTUCKY:—I am a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals from this District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. As Circuit Judge, it became my duty to try a number of criminal cases, which have become a part of the State's history and at a most critical time. As Judge of the State Fiscal Court, it fell to my lot to construe the Statutes adopted, to put in force the provisions of the new Constitution, as well as to construe the present Constitution whenever a controversy arose as to its proper construction. Almost innumerable cases have burdened the dockets of my court, touching the rights of corporations and the exercise of franchise under law. How well I have discharged my duties under such trying circumstances, is left to you to determine.

I will be very grateful to all who feel they can assist me to secure the high position and office to which I aspire.

Very respectfully,
JAMES E. CANTRILL.FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce W. P. Kimball, of Fayette county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from Seventh District, subject to the action of the district convention to be held in the city of Lexington on Thursday, May 12, 1904.

I am a candidate for re-election to Congress from this District, subject to the action of the Democratic party. I believe in getting as close to the people as possible, and it was my desire that a primary election be held to select a Democratic nominee for Congress, so that every Democrat could have the privilege of going to his precinct voting place and expressing his choice, but my opponents desired mass conventions at the county seat, and the committee so ordered.

I am now serving my second term as your Representative. I have endeavored, to the best of my ability, honestly, faithfully and conscientiously to do my duty. It is my highest ambition to secure legislation for the relief of the farmers, who have been so grossly imposed upon by unjust laws, and I feel that my experience has fitted me to render valuable service on this line, if I am permitted to continue to represent my District.

My official duties in Washington will prevent me from making an active personal campaign in all the counties of the district, therefore, I will have to rely on my friends to take care of my interest, which I have an abiding faith they will do. Trusting my service as a member of Congress meets with your approval, and hoping my candidacy will receive your valuable aid and support, I am Very respectfully yours,

cases vomiting up clear phlegm; enlargement of the soft bones of the nose, affecting sense of smell; ulcerations nently restored by taking B. B. B. for catarrh.

"Vitches" Have No Monopoly.
The fun poked at Russian names is rather provincial. Many English proper names must seem quite as odd and mirth-provoking to the Russians as theirs do to us. No Russian would write "Chol-

or "Beauchamp" and call it "Beechem."
And what would a Russian of cultivation
say to the Virginia family "Enrourty," who pronounce it "Darby"?—Mexican

SOAKED IN COFFEE
Until Too Stiff to Bend Over.

"When I drank coffee I often had sick headaches, nervousness and biliousness
much of the time but about 2 years ago I went to visit a friend and got in the habit of drinking Postum.

"I have never touched coffee since and the result has been that I have been entirely cured of all my stomach
and nervous trouble.

"My mother was just the same way,
we all drink Postum now and have never had any coffee in the house for 2 years and we are all well.

"A neighbor of mine, a great coffee drinker, was troubled with pains in her side for years and was an invalid. She was not able to do her work and could not even mend clothes or do anything
at all where she would have to bend forward. If she tried to do a little hard work she would get such pains that she would have to lie down for the rest of the day.

"I persuaded her at last to stop
drinking coffee and try Postum Food
Coffee and she did so and she has used Postum ever since; the result has been that she can now do her work, can sit for a whole day and mend and can sew on the machine and she never feels the least bit of pain in her side
in fact she has got well and it shows coffee was the cause of the whole trouble.

by quitting coffee and using Postum
in its place." Name given by Postum

BEPPPO

By
FRANK H. SWEET

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

THE driver of the big van pulled sharply on his reins, calling angry: "Out of the way, there!" as he did so. Then he leaned forward, cutting down savagely with his whip. But his hissing tip only curled harmlessly
through the air, as the driver knew it would. Beppo's mocking, defiant eyes had been watching him, as they had been watching imminent collisions on all other sides, and when the tip circled toward him he dodged adroitly, just enough to let it hiss by. However, his backward, mocking glance and jeering
call were accompanied by a slight turn of his wrist which swerved the push cart far enough to allow the big wheels to pass.

Beppo was well known on Elizabeth street, to the policemen and hackmen and street vendors, as well as to the dray and van drivers, and though they all scolded him and tried to chastise him for his impudence and recklessness, not one of them but had a secret respect for his hardihood and sturdy independence.

Now, at 15, he owned a push cart,
while many of his older competitors only rented—and his push cart, in the morning, was always well stocked with good fruit. And besides this, in one way and another, he had picked up a crude knowledge of reading and writing.

But, save the toddlers, he had no friends. He did not want any. And as for sympathy, looked or expressed, well,
that was worse than the most vicious enmity. He would have none of it. The world had cuffed and kicked him through his early years, and perhaps he now meant to retaliate. In spite of his 15 years, he was no larger than a properly developed boy of ten or 12.

So now, as he dodged and twisted and wormed his push cart through the telescoping traffic, jeering and yelling defiance at the drivers, and even perhaps showing open violence, there was no friendly glance toward him save those of the two or three urchins who, even in this confusion of wheels and horses' feet,
had found and were following him.

Two policemen stood near. One of them shook his head.
"That boy ought to be run in, not only
for his own sake, but for the street's,"
he said. "He's a menace to everybody, and a bad example in recklessness for the other boys. I don't see how he got under those horses' heads without having his cart smashed and himself, too."

His companion smiled. "You've only been on this beat a month, Delehey," he returned, "and I've been here seven years. That boy was here when I came,
and he's been taking chances like that all the time, and never a smash yet. I'm thinking it's not so reckless as it looks to us."

"All the same he's a tough case," persisted the first speaker, "and it would be a good thing for even a street like this if he was off."

"He's tough, all right," readily, "and a bad example in recklessness to the other boys; but I've got a good deal of respect for Beppo. Things have gone tough with him, and that's had a good deal to do with making him what he is.
And I've noticed that his recklessness is always in the way of trade. I've seen him dodge and twist his cart through as bad a jam as the street ever had, just to sell a few oranges to an old customer
he saw on the other sidewalk. He'll do anything for a trade, and in spite of being so little. Wouldn't wonder if he sold twice as much as any other push cart man on the street."

There was a sound of altercation among the push cart men lower down the curb, and the policeman started in that direction, the last speaker dropping a few cents upon Beppo's cart as he passed and picking up a banana.

The next day they were at almost the same place, watching a thickening confusion of vehicles that threatened a jam.
Beppo's cart was close by, alongside the curb, and he was carrying on a brisk trade.

Suddenly he turned from a prospective customer, glancing sharply out into the street. Then, with a wild bound and scramble that carried him almost under a pair of prancing horses, and across the very tongue of a slow-moving carriage,
he was in the midst of the turmoil of vehicles.

Both policemen sprang forward, but for a moment could not see what he was after. Then a truck passed, and they saw a child, scarcely more than a baby, standing motionless and bewildered. On all sides were interlocking vehicles,
and horses' legs were thundering upon
him and horses' eyes glaring at him.
The child turned in one direction and another, then screamed and sank upon the ground, hiding its face.

Then another truck came in between,
but not before they saw Beppo grasp the child from the very wheels of a van and swing it up to the arms of the driver,
and then, because his keen watchfulness
was momentarily drawn from himself,
he was forced back under the wheels
from which he had saved the child.

The policemen were in the street now,
forcing horses back upon their haunches,
shouting to drivers, and enforcing commands with their clubs. When they reached Beppo they thought he was dead.
But after being carried to the sidewalk,
while they were waiting for an ambulance, he opened his eyes and struggled half to his feet.

"What you looking at me so for?" he demanded, roughly. "I'm all right.
Get out the way and let me go to my cart. I'm losing trade," and again he tried to raise himself, only to fall back with white, drawn face. But not a groan came from his lips.

"Say, what's the matter?" he asked,
as soon as he had regained strength
enough to speak. "What you all standing 'round for?"

"We're waiting for the ambulance,"
one of the policemen answered, gently.
"What for?"
"To take you to the hospital."
Beppo studied him searchingly.
"That's where they cut people up," he said, steadily.

"Where they cure people?"
"Where they cut them up," the boy persisted. "I know a man who went
and had his hand cut off."

"Perhaps he'd have died if they hadn't cut it off. Wouldn't you rather lose a hand or foot than die?"

There was a quick, indrawn breath.
But that was the only sign of emotion Beppo showed.

"Can I come back to-morrow if they cut off my hand or foot?" he demanded.
"Of course, it'll hurt, but I don't care
for that."

"No, not to-morrow—not for several weeks, I'm afraid. But if all goes well, you'll come back some time. Can we do anything for you?"

Beppo did not answer for some minutes. His gaze left them and sought his push cart.
"I s'pose you'll have to take care of
that," he said, presently. "The fruit
won't keep, of course, but maybe you can sell it to somebody for half price.
And there's another thing. You know where I live?"

"No."
Beppo's gaze wandered again until it found a very small boy peeping at him with frightened eyes from behind a bystander. It was one of his old friends.

"Hello, Swipesy," he called, forcing a sudden gaiety into his voice. "Don't you look so scared, boy, I'm all right."

Then to the policeman who had bought fruit from him: "Swipesy'll show you where I live. He knows. He stayed with me once. You'll sort of look out for my folks till I get back. I'll pay you.
The cart'll sell for something, and then there's the fruit, and I've got ten dollars saved up in the boys' bank. You keep count of every cent you spend," sharply,
"cause I'll pay. There's the ambulance now, I s'pose," as a wagon drove up rapidly, turned, and then backed to the curb.

"Well," his voice still steady,
"I'm all ready. Sorry I can't take you to ride with me, Swipesy, but 't wouldn't be any fun for you."
As soon as he was off duty the policeman went with Swipesy to Beppo's home.
What he saw he reported to the companion of his beat the next day.

"Seven sick boys," he snorted, in order to keep his voice steady, "and three of 'em cripples, and the oldest not over ten. One cripple told me he'd been with Beppo ever since he could remember. And I called that boy a young miser! Seem like he's been picking up weak and sick boys and taking care of them just like an old maid gathers up cats, and he commenced when he wasn't much more than a baby himself. Maybe he was remembering his own hard start."

The policeman walked on by his friend's side for a half block in silence, then added: "Bellevue, the department store man on the next block, asked me about him
just now, and when I told him I knew, he said for me to bring Beppo to him just as soon as he got out the hospital, that a boy with nerve and head like that had no business to be pushing a fruit cart round. I wouldn't wonder if he tried to get Beppo into something better."

Two months later Beppo presented himself at the police station. On leg was gone, and he was hobbling on a crutch which the hospital had given him, but which he declared he should pay for.

"My cart here?" he asked.
"Yes."

"Well, I want to sell it for what I can get and let it help pay you folks up. I'll pay the rest before long. I don't s'pose
the cart's rotted down from old age yet," gayly.

"What do you intend to do, Beppo?"
"Don't know," sturdily; "something.
Of course," glancing down at the crutch,
"I can't push a cart and things like that.
S'pose likely I'll hire a hand organ, and stand round corners. Even one-legged folks can turn cranks."

"Would you like to do that?"
"Course not," sharply. "Don't ask so many fool questions. It's a case of must."

"I s'pose so," calmly. "But there's a man up the street who wants to see you first, Beppo. We'll talk about the cart and hand organ afterwards."

Mr. Bellevue was busy at his desk when they were shown into his office, but he turned promptly, and held out his hand.

"Glad to see you, Beppo," he said,
briskly. "I want to talk with you about your future."

"Don't want any help, if that's what you're after," anticipated Beppo.
"Certainly not. I never help a boy who wants help," imperturbably. "This is pure business. You can be of use to me, but you must have training first.
What would you do by yourself with but one leg?"

"I've got arms."

"Yes; but arms are badly handicapped without legs to assist them. No, no, my boy; you must depend upon your head
now. And from what I've heard your head is fully as good as your arms and legs ever were, only it must have a whole lot of training. Four or five years of schooling—or training—and you will be ready for work that will pay you better than your push cart ever did. And in the meantime I will look out for the boys at your home."

"Can I pay for it all?" suspiciously.

"You've got to. I will see to that. I shall keep account of everything, and will make you sign notes to pay me in full, with five per cent. interest. And you must pay me as soon as you get to work. But I warn you, the four or five years' training will be very hard work,
so hard that many boys would shrink
from it. Do you think you can stand it?"

All the suspicion left Beppo's face.
"Course," he answered, shortly. "I'm not afraid of any kind of work. I'll do that training, and I'll do it the best I can. Only you must let me sign them notes just as fast as they're owed. And mind! If I sign, I'll pay."

"PE-RU-NA," A VALUABLE PREPARATION, WRITES DR. KEMBALL.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex are Due to Catarrh of the Pelvic Organs.

Rachael J. Kemball, M. D., 334
Virginia St., Buffalo, N. Y., is a graduate of the University of Buffalo,
class 1884, and has been in the practice of medicine in that city since then. She writes as follows:

"My conviction, supported by experience, is that Peruna is a valuable preparation for all catarrhal affections. I have taken one bottle of Peruna myself and just feel fine.
I shall continue to take it."—Rachael
J. Kemball, M. D.

Peruna has cured thousands of cases of female weakness. As a rule, however, before Peruna is resorted to several other remedies have been tried in vain.
A great many of the patients have taken
local treatment, submitted themselves to surgical operations, and taken all sorts of doctor's stuff, without any result.

The reason of so many failures is the fact that diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh. These organs are lined by mucous membranes. Any mucous membrane is subject to catarrh.
Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ.
What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs.
Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

Most of the women afflicted with pel-

vie diseases have no idea that their trouble is due to catarrh. The majority of the people think that catarrh is a disease confined to the head alone.

This is not true. Catarrh is liable to attack any organ of the body; throat,
bronchial tubes, lungs, stomach, kidneys and especially the pelvic organs.
Many a woman has made this discovery after a long siege of useless treatment. She has made the discovery that her disease is catarrh, and that Peruna
can be relied upon to cure catarrh
wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

LET US HELP YOU TO HEALTH.

Clarke & Co. Want Every Catarrh Sufferer to Use Hyomei and Be Cured.

Statistics show that at least 97 out of every 100 persons in this State suffer from catarrh in some form.

While the disease is one of the most common, it is also one of the most common and offensive, leading to consumption and other diseases of the respiratory organs.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei and its introduction in this section by Clarke & Co., every method of treatment had been found worthless.

The discovery of Hyomei and its growing popularity has already reduced the percentage of those suffering from catarrh. This wonderful remedy is the simplest and most pleasant of treatments. Put 20 drops of Hyomei in the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and breathe it for a few minutes four times a day. Relief will be seen after the first treatment and a complete cure will soon follow. Breathe the Hyomei in this way, and the catarrhal germs even in the most remote air cells are destroyed. The irritated mucous membrane is soothed and healed, and perfect health is restored.

Clarke & Co. say to all catarrh sufferers, "Let us help you to health, we are confident Hyomei will cure, so confident, in fact, that we guarantee to refund your money if it fails. A complete outfit costs but $1, and if it does not help you, your money will be returned promptly."
